BWF

Dear Members,

The PETRONAS Malaysia Open provides the best possible curtain-raiser to the 2024 badminton season. The BWF Super 1000 event will be hotly contested as the world's best players aim to kick-start their year with a bang.

This year's Malaysia Open holds even more appeal for players as they race against the clock to secure precious qualifying points for the Paris Olympic Games. With the Games on the horizon and the qualifying period closing in April, competition will be intense as players vie for these crucial points.

While the Malaysia Open, among the most eagerly awaited events on the HSBC BWF World Tour, always brings out the best in players, this upcoming event will have that added incentive. For fans, the millions watching live on global TV networks, and those tuning in from home, expect action-packed battles throughout the tournament at the Axiata Arena.

As always, BAM has left no stone unturned and taken all necessary preparations to ensure a successful Malaysia Open. The Organising Committee and BAM officials have worked tirelessly round the clock for the past few months, collaborating with relevant authorities to ensure the event runs smoothly. All the requirements and needs of the teams and players have been meticulously managed, and we eagerly await their arrival on our shores in January 2024.

The support and assistance from various parties have been absolutely critical to organizing this tournament. On behalf of BAM, I wish to express my sincere thanks and gratitude to the Government of Malaysia, the Badminton World Federation (BWF), our main sponsor, PETRONAS, government agencies, local authorities, sponsors, media and all others who have lent their support.

In the spirit of celebration, BAM also extends its warmest congratulations to PETRONAS on their 50th anniversary. This milestone is a testament to their enduring commitment and contribution to our nation.

BAM is highly appreciative of the advice and guidance from the Minister of Youth and Sports, YB Hannah Yeoh, who, along with the officials from her ministry, has been enormously supportive of this tournament.

I want to record my heartfelt thanks to the BAM Council, the Organising Committee Chairman, and his members, as well as the BAM Secretariat for their unwavering commitment, dedication, and tireless work for this tournament.

BAM wishes all the participating players, from both abroad and Malaysia, the very best in the PETRONAS Malaysia Open. For the players aiming to qualify for the Olympics, go all out and keep your dreams of playing in Paris on track.

Thank you.

TAN SRI DATO' SRI (DR.) MOHAMAD NORZA ZAKARIA
BAM & Olympic Council of Malaysia (OCM) President
